Elk Point Ag. Society hosts open horse show

By Charlene Baker

On Saturday, August 25, the Elk Point Agricultural Society held their annual Open Horse Show at their new Fair Grounds north of town. Though showers were forecasted, the skies remained sunny throughout the day.

Our judge this year was Korrie Merrill from Edmonton, who did an excellent job and a tough one, with 53 competitors signed up this year, the show drawing more numbers than last year and from further away. It was tough competition, too, with 18 participants in the 11-15 age group classes and 12 in the Senior division, 16 and over, in the Western division.

Thanks go out to Bob Berg who did a great job as our Ring Steward, Bob Baker as our Gate Man, and Glen Harms, who did a fine job of announcing and keeping us all aware of what was going on. The show office was run smoothly and efficiently by Roberta Neilsen and her staff, Hughie Krucik, Lisa Neilsen, Twila Kenyon and Bert Neilsen, who helped with ribbons. Action Pete's Catering from St. Paul supplied us with hot snacks throughout the day.

We would like to thank the businesses which donated the cash prizes for each class, with first receiving $20, second $15, third $10 and fourth $5. Thanks also to the following businesses who helped with the cost of the ribbons: Pan Canadian Petroleum, E-Can Oilfield Services, Norcen Resources, John Zenko, Tags-Elk Point, B & R Eckels, Zarowny Motors.

We had three High Point blankets donated this year, and the winners of these were: Pam Veer, winning the Vermilion Lakeland Saddlery blanket for the 10 and Under category, Tanya Kenyon receiving the Terry Cartier's Western Wear, St. Paul, blanket for the 11 to 15 category, and Charlene Baker receiving the HV Horse Centre, Bonnyville, blanket for the Senior division, 16 and over.

We had two draws for meals from Dave's Pizza and the Empress, won by Brenda Gardipee and Shirley Foss.

The committee would like to extend a very special thanks to Glen Harms who worked tirelessly all summer to get our grounds built and in shape, ready for this show. We'd also like to thank all our sponsors and volunteers for supporting us in this venture: the Bantam Hockey Team for painting all that white pipe, the guys who came out and stretched wire for us, Glen Flanders, Leigh Babcock, Bob Baker, Bob Berg, Peter Veer, Thomas Kondla, Dave Kenyon, Glen Harms. Roof Loan Retired

Elk Point Agricultural Society paid off the loan on their 1988 roof renovations last week, with Treasurer Thomas Kondla handing over the final payment to Toronto Dominion Bank Manager Frank Mayner.

Ag Society roof loan repaid

Two years ago this fall, the Elk Point Agricultural Society decided it was time for roof repairs on the A. G. Ross Arena. A grant which would cover the cost of re-shingling the building was obtained, and work on the mammoth task got underway.

The Ag Society was dismayed to discover, when the old roofing was removed, that a large area of the decking underneath was rotting and had to be replaced, escalating the cost substantially, and exceeding the funds that were available for the project. Fortunately, a loan could be obtained from a local bank to cover the shortfall, and the new decking and shingles were securely in place before the arrival of winter.

Last Friday, this loan was paid off, leaving the Ag Society with only their loan on the Zamboni ice surfacing machine purchased last year, to be paid before they are debt free.

The 1988 roof repairs, along with other improvements made since that time, have resulted in "an arena which will still be functioning 10 to 15 years from now," according to Ag Society President Glen Harms. A good percentage of the money for operation of the arena comes from local sources, while the rest is obtained from Alberta Lotteries grants and other grants. Frank Mayner, with the loan which permitted their needed roof repairs, sees "a new for good facilities to attract people to rural communities." Having lived in rural communities for nearly 30 years, Mayner is well aware that recreational facilities play a large role in rural and small town life, and increased cash flow for businesses from those who come to town to use those facilities.

Glen Harms agrees with this, and feels that the Ag Society is doing their part in providing good facilities for Elk Point, which he says is "an exciting town to be in."

Suspect vehicle rolls

The Elk Point RCMP is investigating a single vehicle rollover which occurred on August 29 at approximately 8:30 p.m., 35 kilometres northeast of Elk Point on a rural gravel road.

The vehicle involved was suspect in an attempted break and enter and an attempted theft from a farmyard near Elk Point some 30 minutes earlier. The vehicle failed to stop for the police when located, and was followed for a distance of three and one half kilometres at speeds of 60 to 110 kilometres per hour, after which it entered a ditch and rolled. One occupant fled the accident scene on foot, the other was injured and was hospitalized.

BALLET AND JAZZ DANCE LESSONS

Community Services will be offering Ballet and Jazz Dance lessons beginning September 11, 1990. We have secured Staschek Zayac again this year as the instructor. Staschek is highly qualified as a dancer and instructor and is committed to providing a positive, challenging program. Lessons will be available for dancers from age 3 to adult. Contact Community Services for registration information at 724-3800.

JACK AND JILL PLAYSCHOOL

The Jack and Jill Playschool is now taking registrations for its 1990-91 season. Children aged 3 1/2 and 4 are eligible to attend. Sessions will once again be Tuesday and Thursday mornings or Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Carolina Mayner will be the Playschool Teacher this year. Carolina brings a lot of skill and experience to the Playschool as this is her sixth year with the program.

Off To A Good Start

Elk Point Agricultural Society has had a very busy summer working on their fair grounds facility, and has a handsome arena to show for their efforts. The first use for the arena was the Society's Open Horse Show last weekend, which was well attended by both competitors and spectators.

OORP undertakes 1990 Arthritis campaign

September is National Arthritis Month, and once again Elk Point is ready to begin their mail drop campaign for The Arthritis Society, Alberta Division.

The chairperson for the campaign this year will be Ms. Lois Sharek of the Order of the Royal Purple. The volunteers will raise funds to help people with this painful and disabling disease.

Almost four million people in Canada have arthritis: that's more than the entire population of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories.

"It's time people knew the facts about arthritis and realized that it's much more than the aches and pains of old age. In fact, 74,000 Canadian children aged 15 and under have arthritis," said Ms. Sharek. "We want people to know that arthritis is Canada's number one chronic disease, affecting one in seven people."

"Throughout September, we will be conducting a mail drop campaign and all residents will find an envelope in their mail box. We hope they will read it and make a donation. All funds raised will go toward patient services, public education and research."

Arthritis Society volunteers will collect the envelopes during the month of September. The Society appeals to the community to help find the ultimate answer: the cure and prevention of this disease. Help relieve human suffering. When an Arthritis Society envelope arrives in your mailbox, please contribute generously. GIVE...to give HOPE.

In Our View

International Literacy Day

Saturday marks the 25th anniversary of the first International Literacy Day, which was instituted during the World Congress of Ministers of Education on the Eradication of Illiteracy in Teheran during September, 1965.

This year, the day will have a special significance, since it is part of the International Literacy Year. Rather than a 'celebration', it has been declared a 'summons to action' with a goal of eradicating a considerable portion of the world's illiteracy before the year 2000.

The statistics are indeed frightening: over a quarter of the world's adult population is illiterate. Women are the most seriously affected. There are one hundred million children in the world who do not have access to primary education geared to dealing with the problem of illiteracy. Some countries just do not have the means available to provide education to their children, especially those living in remote or rural areas.

We look forward to a decade in which these figures will decline considerably, when more and more of the world's population will join those able to communicate through the written word. Literacy is a means of bringing a better life to less developed countries, of eventually giving the residents of those lands a weapon to fight poverty and a foundation on which to build a better economy.

Literacy is something we too often take for granted. Think about that on September 8, and think about the role you could play in the coming decade of growing literacy.

Little Library Lovers

These preschoolers, shown at the Summer Reading Program Windup, have a head start on literacy, due to their exposure to the books and other materials at the Elk Point Public Library. Would we rather they were home watching television? No, but Minister of Culture Doug Main feels that this would save Albertans money. At what cost to our children, Mr. Main?

Alberta Trails

From sea to shining sea

By Irene Magnusson

The news headlines of the past couple of weeks (and more) have put me in mind of a story told me by my brother: back in the days of pre-plastic walls in public biffies, when said walls were used to vent their customers' complaints and observations, this statement was printed up one wall: BOYS LIKE GRILS. Beneath this, in equally bold print, was this correction: THAT'S GIRLS, STUPID. Still below this, was a scrawled question: But what about us GRILS?

I relate this to a vision in my mind, going something like this: I AM A CANAJAN! And someone has scratched through this statement and written in imaginary words: That's CANADIAN, stupid! Deep within me comes the answering question: But what about us Canajans?

Once upon a time, long ago and on up until these last few weeks, I thought everyone who lived in Canada, was born here or became a landed immigrant, who enjoyed the freedom, right to vote, freedom to travel wherever they wished to go, to serve in public office, right to an education, to Family Allowance, to Old Age Pensions, to health care, to freedom of speech—in other words, all the wonderful advantages we do enjoy in this best-of-all country—I thought all these persons were Canajans, just like me.

Now, according to the stories we are being force-fed hourly, we have here in Canada a whole host of "nations", vast numbers of inhabitants who avow that they are not Canadians at all, but members of some other, also vast, number of separate little countries—each group a little country of its own.

Hourly they scream about the terrible treatment they have received from the government of Canada, yet few words are placed on the benefits received. If anyone asked me what benefits I received from being allowed to be a Canadian, living in the free-est country in the world, where we can do almost anything legal, with the blessings of the governments at all stages, I could list off a whole string of them. Some of us are asked to pay for these assets and accommodations, such as roads, hospitals, schools, etc., by paying our taxes. There is enough bitching about that, but then in a free country, one is allowed to complain and bellyache, without fear of being thrown in prison for our outspoken words.

If the gentleman who is a Member of the Legislature of Manitoba, the one who scuttled the Meech Lake Accord, one Mr. Harper, I believe, is NOT a Canadian, what is he doing in the government of a Canadian province? Could an American, an Englishman, a Russian, become a member of a Canadian government? I am not certain, but I believe one would need to be a Canadian citizen.

These people, who live in Canada, but reject Canadian citizenship, should also reject all the benefits which accrue to being a Canadian.

They want more land, yet sometimes do very little with the land they have. They claim a desire to live by hunting and fishing, yet make little effort to preserve our wildlife and fish, by hunting any time of the year, without regard to breeding seasons, killing male and female alike. Fishing has been done in spring, during spawning season, depleting supplies drastically. Running hundreds of buffalo over an embankment to smash to their deaths below, in order to harvest a dozen or two, (as was done a century or more ago) cannot be considered conservationism.

True, the settlers and fur traders were just as bad, or worse, but at least some of them learned better, and changed their ways.

As for blaming the government, or in particular our Prime Minister, this is a bit weird. Canadians do not elect a Prime Minister, they elect representatives, who become Members of Parliament. A leader is selected from among them, elected by delegates from the party he or she is a member of. In accepting the task of being Prime Minister, that person takes on the duties that Parliament assigns.

Of course, he has to have authority. Of course, he has to make decisions. Because he is human and not a god, he makes mistakes. To think there should be a memoranda or vote by all people on every matter that comes up, is just plain ridiculous. Why would we need a parliament at all, if we each decided on every item that came up? What if the majority voted against YOUR idea?

Most Canajans, unlike myself, will say nothing public, but rest assured they are thinking. I, too, am thinking, a good deal more than I am saying. We are supposed to love our neighbors and be nice to each other. Sometimes this is hard.

If Canada is a land of hundreds of 'nations,' all determined to mind only their own laws—then, what about us Canajans?

Letter to the Editor

Disturbing lack of understanding

To The Editor:

Alberta's Culture Minister, Doug Main, has suggested that people should watch television instead of borrowing paperback novels, records, tapes and works of fiction. Do we really believe that people, and especially our children, should grab a video instead of reading a book? Our school teachers have been fighting this trend for years. Aside from acting as a community information resources, libraries are key to preserving our culture, which include works of fiction, records, tapes and paperbacks.

That our Minister responsible for culture has such a lack of understanding about the purpose of libraries is disturbing to say the least. Now library lovers as well as Alberta's multi-cultural communities see him as a throwback to the '50s.

In addition to Mr. Main's lack of understanding, the failure to commit the government to thriving libraries, and through them the goal of literacy, is a dangerous trend for our province. Throughout the province, but especially in rural Alberta, the Tories have failed to provide the resources necessary for library services to meet the existing needs. In southwestern Alberta, the Chinook Arch Library Project received only half the funding they anticipated from government, while in northeastern Alberta, the government has refused

Lakeland College hosts riding school

By Charlene Baker

During the week of July 16 to 20, Vermilion Lakeland College hosted a week long Western Riding School, featuring the CEF Western Riding Preparation Program. The week long school was well attended by 20 students, who ranged from the more experienced riders to those just starting out. The school was taught by two Certified CEF coaches, Josie Veer and Charlene Baker, of Elk Point.

Students arrived at 9:00 a.m. every morning and were taught one and a half hours of theory and then one and a half hours of riding in the morning, and then again in the afternoon, until 5:00 p.m., sometimes carrying on later. Topics ranged from basic safe ground handling, hoof care, feeding, general maintenance of the healthy horse and basic horsemanship skills required to safely control and have a pleasurable ride, following the guidelines set in the CEF Preparation Manual.

The horses were stabled right at the college arena, and students could stay at the college residence or use the camping stalls that were available. The College boasts a beautiful modern campus and residences, cafeteria, and various recreational facilities, including an indoor swimming pool, which the students took full advantage of.

At the end of the week, all the students were evaluated on their progress. The more advanced riders who were ready were also tested and successfully passed their Rider I examination, which included a written test, oral questions and practical riding skills test.

Congratulations to the following students who successfully passed their Rider I exam: Kathleen Conway, Innisfree, Jo-Anne Richer, St.

Paul, Angela Lisch, Senlac, Saskatchewan, Kim Chykalsky, St. Paul, Audrey Ewart, St. Paul, Carolyn Myer, Bonnyville.

The week long riding school was very successful and met with much enthusiasm. Plans are in the works for a follow-up school next summer.

financial support to the Northern Lights regional library system.

During International Literacy Year it is time for the Tories to stop trying to destroy the work of so many volunteers across the province who are promoting literacy and culture in the libraries. Sending Albertans to the boob-tube is no answer for the government's financial woes.

Sincerely,
Yolande Gagnon
MLA for Calgary McKnight and Liberal Opposition Critic for Culture, Education and Advanced Education

Plan well in advance...know your route, check your spare and all your fluid levels, and ensure your car won't run out of gas between stations.

Octoplug

If your electrical outlets are looking like this - you're asking for trouble. Overloaded outlets overheat and can easily cause a fire.

You don't have to rewire your home to solve the problem. You have an inexpensive alternative - power bars.

Power bars can give you more outlets - safely and at a reasonable cost. When you're looking for the right power bar to meet your needs, make sure it has the Canadian Standards Association (CSA) approval sticker and is equipped with a circuit breaker.

Only you can make your home a safe place. Start now.

When it comes to electrical safety - don't take chances.

your guarantee of exceptional savings and value. Look for them!

During a sale, participating Co-op stores make every effort to supply sufficient advertised merchandise to meet your needs. However, due to circumstances beyond our control, some items may be out of stock. Also, due to the size of some Co-op stores, a complete line of advertised items may not be carried. We apologize for any inconvenience caused by these shortages. Although we strive for complete accuracy in our advertising, errors sometimes can occur. When an error is discovered, a correction notice will be posted in your Co-op to bring the error to your attention. We reserve the right to What's news at the library?

Featured in the Elk Point Public Library is a new collection of Alberta Author and/or Alberta Published books. Children's, Adults', fiction and non-fiction books make up this wide collection.

A book of local interest titled Continuity and Change—The Cultural Life of Alberta's First Ukrainians edited by Manoly Lupul, features the cover painting of Elk Point by artist Peter Shostak. Two cook books are included, Country Classics by the Women of Uniform and Best of Seasons by Judy Schultz, food editor of the Edmonton Journal.

A World of Stories—folktales collected and retold by Alberta children's author Andrea Spalding. Offering Smoke—the sacred pipe and native American religion by Jordan Paper.

The Edge of War—The story of the Canadian Public Relations units during the Second World War. Jack Donahue, the book's author, served as Assistant Editor of The Maple Leaf, the daily newspaper for Canada's overseas forces.

Gophers Don't Pay Taxes by Mervyn Huston, won the Leacock Silver Medal award for humor. To My Father's Village—the last days and drawings of William Kurelek. Bereavement—a guide for widowed men and women by Elsie Palmer and Jill Watt. Playhouse—six fantasy plays for children. Fuhr on Goatfending by Grant Fuhr and Bob Mummery.

This list is a small sampling of what is on display. We would like to thank the Alberta Foundation for the Literary Arts for the matching grant which made this purchase of Alberta Authored and/or Published books, by the Elk Point Public Library, possible.

The Library has just recently purchased books by Sharon Dlugosch on Baby Shower Fun, Games For Baby Shower Fun, Wedding Plans and Games For Wedding Shower Fun.

VIDEOS:
An old favorite for young and old, Lassie Come Home, stars Roddy McDowall as Joe and Elizabeth Taylor as the wealthy duke's daughter. Lassie will capture your heart in this classical movie of 1943. Approximate running time: 1 hour and 30 minutes. This movie is in color.

September 8 to 14 is World Literacy Week. The Elk Point Public Library is participating in a Read-In on September 14. Come to the library and read for at least 15 minutes and sign our tally sheet. Help our town compete in the Read-In Challenge among the communities of Alberta.

Jay & Jackie Heagy

Are proud to announce the arrival of

KATRINA RAE

On May 30/90, weighing in at 9 lbs. A sister for Shaidel.

Thanks

Special thanks to Doctor Keith McNeilly and the Elk Point Hospital staff for the care I received during my illness. Also thanks to all my relatives, friends, and neighbors for the cards, visits, phone calls, and good wishes for a speedy recovery.

Agriculture in the classroom

Michael O'Neill, a teacher at F. G. Miller High School, was among 30 teachers from across the province who took part in an intensive 10 day agricultural training program at the University of Lethbridge. The innovative session was designed to help urban and rural teachers learn to use the Agriculture In The Classroom program developed by Alberta Agriculture, and to encourage teacher input into that program's future direction.

The teachers attended a mini agricultural exhibition, with displays by various sectors of the industry and farm commodity groups, toured agricultural industries and farms in the Lethbridge, Taber and Coaldale areas, and spent a weekend with host farm families, in addition to hearing a variety of speakers discuss livestock, grain, special crops, marketing and industry trends. They also met some of the agriculture industry's key people and business representatives.

United Farmers of Alberta has pledged $60,000 in support of the program over four years, and this has permitted the teachers to attend at no cost to themselves. Participants will receive university course credits for their attendance at the program.
